Meth Lab/Cultivating Marijuana Bust One Apprehended, One on The Run

Friday, June 20, 2014 Sheriff Kelly Shouse and Deputy Ivan Fletcher were attempting to pick up a subject on a warrant in the meadow creek area when they encountered a strong odor that was consistent with the smell of methamphetamine.

Robbie Young and Neil Young were at the scene. Upon further investigation it was determined that Robbie Young was standing in a Marijuana patch with a one step meth lab on each side of him. Neil Young fled the scene.

Robbie Young was arrested and charged with Manufacturing Methamphetamine - 1st Offense; Cultivating Marijuana- 5 plants or more - 1st Offense; Possession of a Controlled Substance, 3rd Degree – Drug Unspecified. Young was transported to the Three Forks Regional Jail. Young was arraigned on Tuesday, June 23 and is being held under a $25,000 cash bond. According to the Owsley County Sheriff's Office, Neil Young will be charged with the same charges as Robby Young, when apprehended and will also be charged with Fleeing and Evading a Police Officer.

Sheriff Kelly Shouse wants to remind everyone if you see any suspicious activity in your area, call the Owsley County Sheriff's Office at 593-5161 or dial 911.

Daniel Boone Days 2014

That's right! It's time for Owsley County's July 4th Celebration and we're going to do it right this year.

Starting off the festivities is the production of Homesong; Meet You in the Middle, a play about the people and the stories of Owsley County produced by our very one and only Joan Campbell and the Owsley County Action Team. Performances began Friday June 27th, Saturday June 28th & Thursday July 3rd. The doors open at 6:15 pm with music beginning at 6:30 pm. The Performance begins at 7:00 pm. Another performance will be on Sunday June 29th with doors opening at 2:15 pm, music at 2:30 pm and the performance at 3:00 pm. All performances will be held in the Owsley County High School Kids on Stage Room. There is no admission, but a $5 donation is suggested to help with next years production.

New this year, we are asking the businesses to decorate! Because of a generous donation by Booneville Discount Drugs, we were able to sponsor a contest for the best decorated businesses. A 1st, 2nd and 3rd place winner will be announced and awarded their trophy at the Daniel Boone Day Street Dance. If your business would like to enter in the contest, call the Booneville Sentinel at 593-6627 and let us know by Tuesday, July 1, 2014.

Friday July 4th the Indian Creek Presbyterian Church will take on the task of preparing the famous Barbeque Chicken Dinners that we have missed the passed couple of years. They will began selling dinners at approximately 11:00 am. Delivery will be available around the Booneville area. Dinners will be sold for $8.00.

Friday evening beginning at 6:00 local talent will fill the stage with music for your entertainment. We think you will enjoy the talent we have for you this year. Local and out of town venders will be lined up around the Action Team/Family Dollar Parking Lot for you to browse their items and maybe buy a memento

HOMESONG II Meet you in the Middle

For those of you who saw the Owsley County Action Team production of HOMESONG last year, get ready for this year's production HOMESONG II; Meet you in the Middle to be performed Friday, June 27, Saturday, June 28, Sunday, 29 and Thursday, July 3 in the Kids on Stage room at Owsley County High School. If you didn't see last year's production, this is another chance to see Owsley County's talented performers.

Director Bob Martin and writer Anne Shelby along with local volunteers too numerous to mention have worked long and hard to collect stories and to create and produce a whole new play about the music, people and places of Owsley County. The cast and crew, made up of local musician, performers, and other volunteers, have given up hundreds of hours of volunteer time create a play that will make you proud but also make you stop and think, "Owsley County is our little piece of heaven; how can we make it better?"

This play was made possible through the contributions of Berea College's Promise Neighborhood, Peoples Rural Telephone, Jackson Energy Round Up Funds, Appalachian Community Fund, A Flex-e ARC grant through the Center for Rural Development, the Owsley County Drug Awareness Council, Shouse

Save the Children Summer Boost Camp has Special Visitors This Week

Every week at Save the Children Summer Boost Camp is fun and exciting. This week, however, the kids had two special guests visit.

Wednesday, June 18, Julie Weindling Geier visited camp. Geier is the president of Medictrust LLC in New York, New York and produced the "Discovery Kidz Learn About Wellness" comic books. Save the Children uses the Healthy Choices Nutrition Program during Boost Camp and Geier donated copies of her comic books to be used to help educate students on healthy choices and nutrition. While at camp, Geier visited with students and assisted them with a lesson on nutrition. The kids enjoyed having her visit camp and they really enjoyed reading her comic book. Each student received a copy of the comic book to take home with them.

On Friday, June 20, students boarded busses and visited the Owsley County Public Library for a special visit with writer Anne Shelby. Shelby is an award winning author who has published newspaper stories, essays, songs, novels and children's books. The kids listened closely as Anne told them the tale of Molly Whuppie and how she slew giants and saved the kingdom. She then read the kids "The Man Who Lived in a Hollow Tree," her latest children's book. The kids laughed as she read the tale of this old man who started getting younger after he moved into the hollow of a sycamore tree. Shelby gave the kids time for questions after the story. She was asked why she was a writer, "Because it's just what I do," she said. To close out her time with the kids, Shelby sang "Old Dan Tucker" with them. They stomped their feet and some laughed as they sang the chorus along with her.

It was an exciting week for the kids. You never know what's going to happen at Summer Boost Camp. Stay tuned next week to see what new adventures this kids find.

Syria, Jordan and ISIS;
God is Passing

Sue needs to lose fifty pounds. She goes out to dinner with three of her friends and does not eat dessert when the main course is finished. Not eating dessert in the restaurant that night is just one of many things done in preparation for that glorious day when Sue steps on the scale and she is fifty pounds lighter. Bible prophecy is much the same way, there are things done in preparation for the glorious day when a prophecy is fulfilled. The unrest with the nations bordering Israel the last few years and now the al-Qaeda spinoff, ISIS, threatening Syria and Jordan could very well be the measures needed for the fulfilling of the Psalm 83 prophecy to take place.

The land areas that the invasion will be launched from are: (KJV Biblical names in parenthesis): Central Jordan (Moab), Lebanon (Gebal (a city in Lebanon)), Northern Jordan (Ammon), The Negev into the Sinai (Amalek), Gaza (Philistines), Syria into Western Iraq (Assur). ISIS has already taken over parts of Syria, is playing havoc in Iraq and according to the Gatesstone Institute International Policy Council, the group is "planning to take their jihad to Jordan, Lebanon, the Gaza Strip and the Sinai Peninsula -- after having already capture large parts of Syria and Iraq" (see: <http://www.gatestoneinstitute.org/4354/isis-jordan>).

Jordan, Syria, Iraq, the Sinai, Gaza and Lebanon; the two lists, the invaders of Psalm 83 and the area ISIS is planning to control are identical. What we are witnessing surrounding Israel in today's news is equivalent to Sue not eating her dessert; it is the preparations needed for the day Biblical prophecy comes true.

To explain the battle of Psalm 83 some background is needed. Most people, when they hear of saber rattling in the Middle East, think of Armageddon, but there are two battles that will take place before Armageddon that are prophesied in the Scriptures. Both battles before Armageddon are invasions of Israel. The first of these two invasions is the battle of Psalm 83. The purpose of the invasion told in Psalm 83, is a pure hatred of Israel and to wipe Israel off the map (Psalm 83:2-4). The end result is the destruction of invaders by fire (Psalm 83:9-15). God's purpose behind the battle is an attempt to get people to recognize their sin and see that He is God (Psalm 83:16-18).

More details of this invasion can be seen elsewhere in Scripture. The book of Amos also tells us most of the invaders will be destroyed by fire, Damascus Syria (Amos 1:3-5), Gaza (Amos 1:6-8), Tyre Lebanon (Amos 1:9-10), Bozrah, which was the capital of Edom in Biblical times and was located in modern day Jordan (Amos 1:11-12), Rabbah, a city in northern Jordan (Amos 1:13-15) and Moab, or central Jordan (Amos 2:1-3). The only ones not described as being destroyed by fire is Gaza and the Sinai. Gaza, is technically part of Israel and the Sinai already is a desolate wasteland.

However, there is one other place destroyed by fire in Amos, it is "the palaces of Jerusalem" (Amos 2:5). With all this information, here is my educated guess of the details of the battle. The invasion of Israel comes from all her bordering neighbors. Israel takes a good hit. The palaces of Jerusalem would seem to be a reference to her governmental buildings. The government of Israel could be wiped out. With this being the case, a general on the battlefield could decide to use the "Sampson Option," which is basically the belief that if it appears that all is lost, destroy your enemies with you, thus giving the order to launch Israel's nukes at the major cities of the invaders causing the destruction by fire described in Psalm 83 and Amos 1-2. Isaiah 17:1 also tells us Damascus will cease from being a city and shall be reduced to "a ruinous heap." Isaiah 17:14 tells us the battle will begin at "eveningtide" and be over by morning. The battle will take less than one day. The world will change forever in a handful of hours.

Like a boxer pulling himself up by the ropes while his opponent is counted out, Israel is victorious but suffers an awful beating. Space prohibits me from discussing the rise of the Antichrist, which comes quickly after and because of this battle, or the invasion of Ezekiel 38-39, the second battle between now and Armageddon, but it does look like God is passing on dessert in preparation for the glorious day of His return.

Vehicle damaged by fallen tree

Saturday morning at approximately 12:30 am, Sheriff Kelly Shouse and Deputy Sheriff Justin Wilson were enroute back to the county from transporting two subjects to Hazard when an accident occurred. They were traveling on KY 30 E when a tree fell onto their vehicle causing extensive damage.

The KSP was called to the scene. Allen’s Ambulance Service was also enroute back to the county from a transport and came upon the accident, when they stopped to render aide. Neither the sheriff or deputy was injured in the accident.

Owsley County Relay For Life

Last Friday evening, Owsley County Relay for Life was held. Several teams from Owsley County Participated in the event: Farmers State Bank & Friends; Indian Creek Presbyterian Church; Myrtle Campbell; Owsley County Action Team and the Turner Family and Friends.

Because of the rain that moved in, the luminary ceremony was not held but the following luminaries were purchased in memory of: Elihue Roberts, David Roberts, Clayton Thomas, Ethel Thomas, Wilson Thomas, Marcus Thomas, Lizzalee Becknell, Laura Robertson, Charlotte McDaniel, Tom Baker, Neil Taylor, Beatrice Minter, Wade Minter, Dave Turner, Evallee Turner, Elliott Turner, Sigel Turner, Raleigh Turner, Shelby Turner, Herald Osborne, Chester Rice, James Gabbard, Faye Brewer, Wesley Herald, Charlotte Marshall, Pauline Bobrowski, Schondell Gabbard, Charles Moyers, Beatrice Dooley and Lawrence Baker. The following were purchased in honor of: Pam Campbell, Bonnie Woodward, Evon Marshall, Ronnie Frye and Alfreda Bowling.

The event was sponsored by River Park Showgrounds, Booneville Lodge # 939; Booneville Shopwise, City of Booneville, Farmers State Bank and PRTC.

Thanks to all our sponsors and all who came out and helped with our event.

This report is designed to inform the public about the quality of water and services provided on a daily basis. Our commitment is to provide our customers with a safe, clean, and reliable supply of drinking water. We want to assure that we will continue to monitor, improve, and protect the water system and deliver a high quality product. Water is the most indispensable product in every home and we ask everyone to be conservative and help us in our efforts to protect the water source and the water system.

Booneville Water treats surface water from the South Fork of the Kentucky River. An analysis of the susceptibility of the Booneville South Fork Kentucky River water supply to contamination indicates that susceptibility is generally moderate. However, there are a few areas of concern. Nonpoint source pollution such as agriculture, livestock, and logging are the most prominent sources of potential contamination. Several oil and gas wells are in the protection area as well. Bridges are another area of concern due to the potential for spills of hazardous materials. Fortunately, there are no bridges within 1/2 mile of the intake. A complete source water assessment can be viewed at Booneville City Hall during regular business hours. The Annual CCR is distributed via internet, newspapers or hand delivery every year.

Drinking water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. The presence of contaminants does not necessarily indicate that water poses a health risk. More information about contaminants and potential health effects may be obtained by calling the Environmental Protection Agency's Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

The sources of drinking water (both tap water and bottled water) include rivers, lakes, streams, ponds, reservoirs, springs, and wells. As water travels over the surface of the land or through the ground, it dissolves naturally occurring minerals and, in some cases, radioactive material, and may pick up substances resulting from the presence of animals or from human activity. Contaminants that may be present in source water include: Microbial contaminants, such as viruses and bacteria, (sewage plants, septic systems, livestock operations, or wildlife); Inorganic contaminants, such as salts and metals, (naturally occurring or from stormwater runoff, wastewater discharges, oil and gas production, mining, or farming); Pesticides and herbicides, (stormwater runoff, agriculture or residential uses); Organic chemical contaminants, including synthetic and volatile organic chemicals, (by-products of industrial processes and petroleum production, or from gas stations, stormwater runoff, or septic systems); Radioactive contaminants, (naturally occurring or from oil and gas production or mining activities).

In order to ensure that tap water is safe to drink, EPA prescribes regulations that limit the amount of certain contaminants in water provided by public water systems. FDA regulations establish limits for contaminants in bottled water to provide the same protection for public health.

Some people may be more vulnerable to contaminants in drinking water than the general population. Immuno-compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune system disorders, some elderly, and infants can be particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about drinking water from their health care providers. EPA/CDC guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by Cryptosporidium and other microbial contaminants are available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

Some or all of these definitions may be found in this report:

Maximum Contaminant Level (MCL) - the highest level of a contaminant that is allowed in drinking water. MCLs are set as close to the MCLGs as feasible using the best available treatment technology.

Maximum Contaminant Level Goal (MCLG) - the level of a contaminant in drinking water below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MCLGs allow for a margin of safety.

Maximum Residual Disinfectant Level (MRDL) - the highest level of a disinfectant allowed in drinking water. There is convincing evidence that addition of a disinfectant is necessary for control of microbial contaminants.

Maximum Residual Disinfectant Level Goal (MRDLG) - the level of a drinking water disinfectant below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MRDLGs do not reflect the benefits of the use of disinfectants to control microbial contaminants.

Below Detection Levels (BDL) - laboratory analysis indicates that the contaminant is not present.

Not Applicable (N/A) - does not apply.

Parts per million (ppm) - or milligrams per liter, (mg/L). One part per million corresponds to one minute in two years, or a single penny in $100,000.

Parts per billion (ppb) - or micrograms per liter, (µg/L). One part per billion corresponds to one minute in 2,000 years, or a single penny in $10,000,000.

Parts per trillion (ppt) - one part per trillion corresponds to one minute in 2,000,000 years, or a single penny in $1,000,000,000.

Parts per quadrillion (ppq) - one part per quadrillion corresponds to one minute in 2,000,000,000 years or one penny in $10,000,000,000,000.

Picocuries per liter (pCi/L) - a measure of the radioactivity in water.

Millirems per year (mrem/yr) - measure of radiation absorbed by the body.

Million Fibers per Liter (MFL) - a measure of the presence of asbestos fibers that are longer than 10 micrometers.

Nephelometric Turbidity Unit (NTU) - a measure of the clarity of water. Turbidity has no health effects. However, turbidity can provide a medium for microbial growth. Turbidity is monitored because it is a good indicator of the effectiveness of the filtration system.

Variances & Exemptions (V&E) - State or EPA permission not to meet an MCL or a treatment technique under certain conditions.

Action Level (AL) - the concentration of a contaminant which, if exceeded, triggers treatment or other requirements that a water system shall follow.

Treatment Technique (TT) - a required process intended to reduce the level of a contaminant in drinking water.

Information About Lead:

If present, elevated levels of lead can cause serious health problems, especially for pregnant women and young children. Lead in drinking water is primarily from materials and components associated with service lines and home plumbing. Your local public water system is responsible for providing high quality drinking water, but cannot control the variety of materials used in plumbing components. When your water has been sitting for several hours, you can minimize the potential for lead exposure by flushing your tap for 30 seconds to 2 minutes before using water for drinking or cooking. If you are concerned about lead in your water, you may wish to have your water tested. Information on lead in drinking water, testing methods, and steps you can take to minimize exposure is available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline or at <http://www.epa.gov/safewater/lead>.

The data presented in this report are from the most recent testing done in accordance with administrative regulations in 401 KAR Chapter 8. As authorized and approved by EPA, the State has reduced monitoring requirements for certain contaminants to less often than once per year because the concentrations of these contaminants are not expected to vary significantly from year to year. Some of the data in this table, though representative, may be more than one year old. Unless otherwise noted, the report level is the highest level detected.

	Allowable Levels	Highest Single Measurement	Lowest Monthly %	Violation	Likely Source
Turbidity (NTU) TT* * Representative samples of filtered water	No more than 1 NTU* Less than 0.3 NTU in 95% of monthly samples	0.76	99	No	Soil runoff

Contaminant [code] (units)	MCL	MCLG	Report Level	Range of Detection	Date of Sample	Violation	Likely Source of Contamination
Inorganic Contaminants
Barium [1010] (ppm)	2	2	0.029	0.029 to 0.029	Feb-13	No	Drilling wastes; metal refineries; erosion of natural deposits
Copper [1022] (ppm) sites exceeding action level	AL = 1.3	1.3	0.037 (90 th percentile)	0 to 0.347	Jul-12	No	Corrosion of household plumbing systems
Fluoride [1025] (ppm)	4	4	1.151667	0.2 to 1.86	Dec Jul-05	No	Water additive which promotes strong teeth
Lead [1030] (ppb) sites exceeding action level	AL = 15	0	6 (90 th percentile)	2 to 9.8	Jul-12	No	Corrosion of household plumbing systems
Nitrate [1040] (ppm)	10	10	0.3	0.04 to 0.3	Dec-13	No	Runoff from fertilizer use; leaching from septic tanks; sewage; erosion of natural deposits

Disinfectants/Disinfection Byproducts and Precursors
Total Organic Carbon (ppm) (measured as ppm, but reported as a ratio)	TT*	N/A	1.25 (lowest average)	1 to 1.68 (monthly ratios)	N/A	No	Naturally present in environment.
*Monthly ratio is the % TOC removal achieved to the % TOC removal required. Annual average of the monthly ratios must be 1.00 or greater for compliance.
Chlorine (ppm)	MRDL = 4	MRDLG = 4	1.89 (highest average)	1.10 to 2.40	N/A	No	Water additive used to control microbes.
HAA (ppb) (all sites) [Haloacetic acids]	60	N/A	35 (system average)	10 to 59 (range of system sites)	N/A	No	Byproduct of drinking water disinfection
THM (ppb) (all sites) [total trihalomethanes]	80	N/A	52 (system average)	11 to 101 (range of system sites)	N/A	No	Byproduct of drinking water disinfection

EPA has not established drinking water standards for unregulated contaminants. There are no MCL's and therefore no violations if found. Secondary contaminants do not have a direct impact on the health of consumers and are not required in the Consumer Confidence Report. They are being included to provide additional information about the quality of the water.

Secondary Contaminant	Maximum Allowable Level	Report Level	Range of Detection	Date of Sample
Sodium	optimum level =20 mg/L	9.97	9.97 to 9.97	Mar-13

We are required to monitor your drinking water for specific contaminants on a regular basis. Results of regular monitoring are an indicator of whether or not our drinking water meets health standards. During the compliance period for September, 2013 we did not complete all reporting for the Consumer Confidence Report and therefore cannot be sure of the quality of our drinking water during that time.

There is nothing you need to do at this time. You do not need to use an alternative (e.g., bottled) water supply. The table below lists the contaminant(s) we did not properly test for during the last year, how often we are supposed to sample for [this contaminant/these contaminants] and how many samples we are supposed to take, how many samples we took, when samples should have been taken, and the date on which follow-up samples were (or will be) taken.

contaminant	required sampling frequency	number of samples taken	samples should have been taken	when samples were or will be taken
CCR	1 yr	NA	Sept. 2012	2013 CCR

What happened? Who is at risk? What is being done?

In 2012 Booneville Water received a CCR violation for failing to report a total coliform detect during a line break in September 2012. We retested and the result was negative. The CCR must contain Total Coliform detects even if there was no violation issued for the detections. The remedial measures required were to notify customers of this violation in this year's CCR. We have reviewed why this sample was not included in the CCR and have reorganized our record keeping in an effort to prevent this from happening again. There is no health issues associated with this violation.

The Outdoor Truth

by Gary Miller

This time of year deer are craving salt and other minerals. The bucks need this during the time when their antlers are growing and they will literally eat the dirt if it contains traces of these raw materials. I have also seen huge holes dug deep in the ground where the deer have pawed and scratched day after day in order to reach any remnants that may be left. But it all happens within a small window of time. In fact, while they may dig for one small morsel in the spring and summer, they won't even smell a salt block in the late fall and winter seasons. It's pretty remarkable how complete the reversal really is and it's one reason why in many states putting out salt for deer during the season is not illegal. It really doesn't do any good unless your season opens in August or early September. Kentucky is one of those seasons that do, so it is not unusual to see this scenario lived out as you sit in a tree stand. One time I remember watching a doe so intent to get a taste that she literally ignored anything or anybody that was near. Her head was so far down in a hole, I could have walked up on her and she would have never known it. But again, this window of time is short-lived. What occurs to me when I am reminded of this is how this short timeframe is not due to the lack of the mineral's availability but to the deer's lack of desire. The craving simply goes away. The desire that was once singularly focused has now been satisfied - at least for a time.

Desire is a strong emotion. It can get us in trouble or it can become the reason for our success. It can make us dependent and even addicted or it can keep us motivated toward great accomplishments. And just like my deer is toward salt, desire can be satisfied. Now one might say that just as the deer is drawn to the mineral by his created design, we are drawn to our desires the same way. That is partially true because our body craves certain minerals at times as well. But those who believe in the Scriptures, believe that God designed man with more than a personality (because animals have these), but with the very essence of God Himself. He made us in His image. This means that while our bodies may desire things to fulfill our created design, our spirit desires the things that fit into our Godly one. And what is amazing about these desires is while our physical body will one day die because of the lack of certain things; our spiritual one will never die. It will just be moved to another place and to another body - one that will be perfect for the person God has made each of us to be.

Column 90

"A It felt so good to sing along as she played her father's guitar. She knew she would be spending any spare time practicing and learning songs. As a child, Liza Jane has listened to country and bluegrass music in her home. She would often perform for her parents and relatives at picnics and other family gatherings. Liza would not sing officially for her daddy and Jake until she knew she felt confident. She had been singing Christmas carols and songs for children for so many years, that it felt good to sing an adult song for a change. She took a break from the guitar and got on her laptop computer to find that sweet song that Jake had been humming in the truck. She found several other songs she liked and printed those off before finding the particular song Jake had been practicing. She planned to surprise Jake and her father, and was determined not to practice that special song where her daddy could hear it.

As she was closing down her computer, Clarence came in the house and asked if it was time to go to town to hear Jake sing. Liza was thrown off for a minute, until she realized he was confused about what day it was. "Well daddy, today is Sunday and we always go over to Delsie's house for a great home cooked meal, remember?" asked Liza. "Of course I remember, when are we leaving?" he answered happily. Liza looked at the clock and gasped, because she had lost track of time and Jake would be coming to pick them up any minute! She quickly changed out of her work clothes and into a cotton dress. She had been very active socially, and often went to friends' houses for a meal, but she couldn't remember looking forward to those dinners like she looked forward to going to Delsie's table to eat. Liza felt so fortunate to be able to spend time with Delsie and she admired the young woman immensely. Delsie was an upbeat person who found real and simple joy in cooking a meal for her friends. Liza had contemplated how difficult it must be to cook without sight. She found it a challenge to cook as a sighted person. She thought it was amazing how Delsie decorated the house and kept everything in its place. Amazing was the word that described her friend Delsie. Liza wished that there was a special young man that could love Delsie as she was. She determined to make it her mission to see what she could do about that!

"Come on Liza, Jake is here in his Cinderella carriage to take us on a ride!" exclaimed Clarence. "I didn't know his truck used to be a pumpkin daddy!" replied Liza. "You haven't known him as long as I have young lady," Clarence responded teasingly. "There are many things that you don't know about my friend Jake," he answered with a sneaky grin!

their handicaps and split the prize money. The team portion of the league was won by Bear Strong and Patrick Younts with a combined score of -2.

* The Thursday, June 19th Skins competition had 4 winners. Eric Mason won number 2 with a birdie and also won number 9 with an eagle. Bear Strong won number 6 with a birdie, and Tim Pennington won number 8 with a birdie. In order to make the playing field as even as possible, Skins participants play from different tees according to their individual handicaps. The lower handicap golfers play from the Gold Tees, which are the main back tees. Others play from the second longest tees, the Blue Tees, while higher handicap golfers play from the remaining sets of tees, the White Tees and the Green (Senior) Tees.

* A new feature of the Tuesday League Play and the Thursday Skins/Scramble Night is a $10 gift certificate awarded to the closest to the pin on the two par 3's, hole number 3 and hole number 6. The gift certificate must be used in the pro shop or the lounge. The gift certificates are sponsored by Allen's Ambulance Service, Gay Brother's Logging, Showtime Pizza in Jackson, Booneville Shopwise, and Begley's Auto Parts. The winners of the first gift certificates were Randy Osborne, who was closest to the pin with his shot on number 3, and Bear strong, who was closest to the pin with his drive on number 6.
